Fragment, Psalter with Passion Readings transcribed by Pietro Ursuleo da Capua.

<https://fragmentarium.ms/overview/F-8zdo>

Contents

Part of the Litany of Saints, including invocations for the intercession of the Virgin Mary, the Angels, particular Patriarchs and Prophets, Apostles and Disciples, Martyrs, Priests and Religious.

The transcription attempts to follow the double columns of 19 lines and retains the original punctuation marks of the text. Expanded scribal abbreviations indicated in italics. The transcription tries to reflect the choices of the scribe in contracting responses, or omitting them altogether when space was short, evidently to maintain the streamlined layout.

Compared against a sister manuscript transcribed by Pietro Ursuleo (Cambridge: Trinity College, MS. O.7.46, ff. 137v-139v).

Transcribed by R. Faunce, August 2021.

³*'et prophete'* unnecessary. Saint Giles (Aegidius) was not a prophet, nor is there a saint called Prophete. The same invocation appears in Trinity College, MS. O.7.46, f. 139r.
