

Handwritten Syriac text in an acrostic format, consisting of 14 lines. The text is written in black ink on aged, yellowish-brown parchment. Several words are written in red ink, likely serving as markers or initials. The text is arranged in a single column, with each line containing a single word or short phrase. The words are connected by a common letter, forming an acrostic. The text is somewhat faded and the parchment shows signs of wear and tear.