From left to right, the visible text fragments are:

- Fragment 1: at usc tia xbe &fi dic ple n'a ur us.1 cim el uula m i ron uus n'u car un tu
- Fragment 2: tra gō pue tēs reg per mu d&c sum scif cur inf con ude inc me yu gr int ato zt &C pu ent
- Fragment 3: sp egs am an uen oue oco ada run e a an
- Fragment 4: ia mq adir xlit ver ele os& duo L. ae aban stat te us, a & xte sam alati regn cis sin riac ncau sace

Small labels are visible on the strips:
Fragment 1: "Fragm 1582 9 v. 100"
Fragment 3: "Fragm 1582 9 v. 100"
Fragment 4: "Fragm 1582 9 v. 100"
