

Fragment of a Latin manuscript, likely a doctrinale, written in a medieval script. The text is arranged in two columns on a single leaf of parchment. The left column contains approximately 10 lines of text, and the right column contains approximately 10 lines. The script is a dense, cursive hand, characteristic of the 12th or 13th century. The parchment is aged and shows signs of wear, including discoloration and some staining. The text is written in a single ink color, likely iron gall. The fragment is centered on a plain, light-colored background.