

Fragment of a manuscript page, likely containing text from Johannes Chrysostomos. The text is written in a medieval script, possibly Gothic or Carolingian minuscule, and is arranged in approximately 20 lines. A decorative initial letter 'S' is visible at the top, rendered in red ink with a crown-like flourish above it. The parchment is aged and shows signs of wear, including a hole near the top edge.

