

[Faint, mostly illegible handwriting in a medieval script, possibly Carolingian minuscule. The text is written on aged, yellowed parchment with some staining and a large tear on the right side.]

R In celis xpi ouium pastorem.
meram mus dum in sua ter
eratus esse a nimal n lucri in aliena uoluit per Unde sedi cui presunt alium pr
terum nauuntat egressus.
R Baiuvarum uenient beatus emmerra
donec duce pannoniam petendi
tin seipriaceps sue magis petat cie netante careret doctore et minime permissit

[Handwritten notes at the bottom of the fragment:]
191
156
Frg. 28r

